

Gas Pressure Test Kit Uniweld Products Inc.

The Uniweld precision Gas Pressure Test Kit includes a sensitive diaphragm gauge that is calibrated in inches of water column to provide a high degree of accuracy. A gas pressure test kit of this type eliminates the mess of water and the need for mercury. The kit is used to measure gas pressure across appliance manifolds and can be used to test gas stoves, furnaces, dryers, and other gas appliances. Once the rubber tube nipple is attached to the manifold and the regulated pressure is set for natural or LP gas, you're good to go. Two kits are available: Part# 45503, scale: 0-35" W.C., 0-20 Oz./In2 and #45506, scale: 0-15" W.C., 8.6 oz./In2. The kit also includes a brass fitting (barbed x 1/8" M.P.T.) and a plastic carrying case with handle.

The Pro-Fit Hole saws from Lyropa Tool are carbide-tipped for cutting a variety of materials. They are intended to last for up to 600 holes in wood and other materials before needing to be sharpened. Designed specifically for wood, these saws feature an aggressive cutting action that penetrates many materials such as MDF, fiber cement, soft stone, and red brick. With a deep-cutting body, the Pro-Fit Saws make fast work of drilling through dimensional lumber in one cut. With the exclusive Drill and Drop Arbor, the waste plug is ejected with the push of a button.
